

Dont Let The Summer Slide Get You

When school stops for the summer, learning doesn't have to stop too.

The Department of Otolaryngology's Hearing & Speech Program at Weill Cornell Medicine proudly offers distance summer academic enrichment for students with hearing loss to develop and strengthen skills ranging from:

- pre-literacy skills
  - reading comprehension & fluency
  - writing fundamentals
  - organization, executive functioning, & study skills
  - auditory training & memory development
  - & more!
